GENERAL DESCRIPTION

Mobles 114 has revived the Catalan armchair made of oak with its seat upholstered in traditionally made natural fibre, respecting as scrupulously as possible the original design by German Rodríguez Arias.

A chair with a markedly Mediterranean character that is particularly notable for having six legs, a high back and a slant reinforced by the back legs, giving the piece a contemporary, modern feel. Especially suitable for hotels, receptions and waiting rooms, as well as reading areas in libraries and other special areas. This armchair is particularly cosy and natural, ideal for decorating the interiors of homes.

DIMENSIONS

MODELS

Single model.

MATERIALS AND FINISHES

This chair is made using traditional techniques.

Armchair with a solid oak frame. The slats in the back are also made from solid oak.

The whole structure is finished with a water-based varnish, transparent to preserve the natural colour of the wood. The procedure used is the sand and strop method: two undercoats with sanding in-between and a topcoat of water-based varnish. This protects the chair from atmospheric damage, also improving its physical and chemical resistance.

Seat upholstered in raffia with a checked design.
